Robert LeFevre

Robert LeFevre has been a fountainhead of the West coast libertarian movement almost since its inception. He is best known for his extensive career in both broadcasting and journalism, and his Freedom School that was founded in 1956 near Colorado Springs. Later, after the school was moved to Santa Ana, California, LeFevre renamed the school Rampart College, and continued as its president until 1973.

LeFevre is the author of This Bread is Mine, The Nature of Man and His Government, The Philosophy of Ownership and Lift Her Up, Tenderly. In recent years, two booklets have been published by Society for Libertarian Life from two of LeFevre's speeches at Santa Ana College (Good Government: Hope or Illusion? and Does Government Protection Protect?

Robert LeFevre's "Fundamentals of Liberty" is the heart and soul of LeFevre's philosophy. The full course, which takes a week to complete, is one of the most comprehensive presentations on liberty and the free market. LeFevre has been teaching this course for over 20 years to businessmen, teachers and students. The cost to attend LeFevre's courses usually cost $250 to $350 or more. However, this course is an introduction to the Fundamentals of Liberty, lasting only 7.5 hours, and can only hit the highlights of his regular week-long course.

Rampart Institute is planning more extensive three-day seminars in the future.

LeFevre's future seminars will be listed in New Rampart, one of the publications of Rampart Institute.

NOTE: After the Sat. class, refreshments will be served along with a show of LeFevre's colored slides of the old Freedom School in Colorado.
