LIBERTARIAN DISCUSSION EVENINGS AT RAMPART COLLEGE

In July, Rampart College began holding monthly discussion evenings on the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m., at its quarters on the 6th floor of the First Western Bank Building at 104 W. Fourth Street in Santa Ana. (* Driving directions below.)

Next session: Tuesday, August 21st, 1973, at 8 p.m.

The purpose of these discussion evenings is to provide

- ... an opportunity for persons who are interested in libertarian ideas and their consequences to talk about applying libertarian thought to philosophic, psychological, economic, political, and other areas of life ...
- ... a time to bring friends and acquaintances who want to find out about libertarian ideas and people ...
- ... a place to discuss the personal and inter-personal aspects of libertarianism ...
- ... an atmosphere of open discussion where all libertarian-based ideas will be welcome for exposure and consideration ...
- ... a chance to keep up with the latest libertarian thought, activities, and publications ...
- ... a way to bring together persons of similar views and interests for mutual exchange and profit.

The discussion evenings will not be formal presentations or lectures, but informal gatherings of libertarians and their friends who want to explore ideas relating to human liberty.

Phone: (714) 835-2505

- * Take the Main St. exit from the Santa Ana Freeway; go South on Main for about 2 miles, to Fourth St. We're on the S.W. corner.

(Note: Because of building security, the door is open only until 8:30 p.m.)

LIBERTARIAN SUPPER CLUB OF LOS ANGELES

In the year and a half since the Libertarian Supper Club began its meetings, it has developed into the highlight of the month for many libertarians. After a fine dinner, a speaker regales the gathering on a topic of general libertarian interest.

Lloyd Licher is editor of the Supper Club's newsletter and coordinator of the meetings. He offers a lucid summary of each month's talk in the newsletter, as well as notices of interest to "members." ("Members" refers to all those on the Club's mailing list.) Lloyd can be reached at 12536 Woodbine, Los Angeles, CA 90066 - (213) 397-4848 home; (213) 390-4449 office.

All meetings are held at TAIK Restaurant, 1911 Sunset Blvd. (near Alvarado), Los Angeles; 7:15 p.m. for dinner ($5.00), 8:15 p.m. ($.50) for the talk only.

Meeting dates for the balance of 1973: Tuesday, August 7th - Tuesday, September 4th (speaker Manny Klausner, publisher of Reason Magazine) - Wednesday, October 3rd (speaker Robert LeFevre, president emeritus of Rampart College) - Tuesday, November 6th - and Thursday, December 6th.

AUGUST 7th SPEAKER: HARRY POLLARD, president of the Henry George Schools of California.

LIBERTARIAN ALTERNATIVE

This group specializes in making editorial replies to put forth a libertarian point of view on various issues, and meets on a monthly basis in Los Angeles and San Diego. It may soon have a chapter in Orange County as well. Meetings consist of catching up on the past month's events and planning future activities, with plenty of time for socializing.

Los Angeles meetings: first Monday of each month at the Eaters Digest Restaurant, 9032 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills - 8:00 p.m. Contact - Charles Barr, c/o Libertarian Alternative, Box 38182, Hollywood, CA 90038.

San Diego: contact - Sara Baase, c/o Libertarian Alternative, Box 15011, San Diego, CA 92115.

Orange County: contact - Dean Hyatt, who is attempting to organize a chapter here. Please phone him if you're interested in helping and/or attending: (714) 586-1300.

ABILITY AND AGILITY

"Heroes of the Marketplace" will be honored by the Nathan Hale Society at a banquet in Lincoln, Nebraska on September 28th. Gene Chapman announces plans to honor a dozen Activists of the Market "who place the bread and butter on the table for at least 200 or more employees...who show ability and agility in outwitting governmental employees...." Tickets, $10. Chapman's address is 904 Terminal Bldg., Lincoln, NB 68508 (He's a '71 grad.) Featured speaker at the September 28th event will be Robert LeFevre, president emeritus of Rampart College.

PERSON TO PERSON DIRECTORY

Ilmar Roosmagi, 10-53 47th Road, Long Island, NY 11101, would like to hear from individualists who are interested in discussing Objectivism. (212) 592-8509.

INDEPENDENT STUDY PROGRAM

International Community College has a plan of higher education reflecting a truly libertarian alternative. Independent study under the guidance of learned tutors "assumes that the individual's own motivations, his desire to learn and grow, should play a central role in the formulation of his educational experience. The acquisition of a college education should represent a positive act of individual volition rather than passive acquiescence in institutional routines and requirements." For catalog and enrollment information, write the International Community College at 1019 Gayley Ave. (Westwood Village), Los Angeles, CA 90024 - or phone (213) 477-6761.

NO SHORTAGE OF DOCTORS - JUST MISPLACED M.D.'s

"Less than 56% of the physicians in the U.S. are available to provide medical care on a private fee-for-service basis. Even these physicians are harassed with mountainous government red tape...." The Association of American Physicians and Surgeons recommends making thousands of physicians available for doctor-patient care by removing over 30,000 from the federal payroll. According to the AAPS, the present U.S. ratio of one doctor for approximately 625 people is the most advantageous ratio for any major country in the world.

PRICE FREEZE CHALLENGED IN LONDON

At least until March, 1973 no one has been prosecuted in England for upping prices without cause. In a deliberate attempt to boycott the freeze, the slick quarterly Freedom First has raised its price from 12½p to 15p. The magazine's new editor, Pauline Russell, says a representative from the Department of Trade and Industry price unit started by "telling me, more or less, not to be a naughty girl and to put the price down again next time. When I told him that we would be putting it up another 2p for the next issue and that the reason we were doing it was to make money, he warned me about what could happen." The London Financial Times reports: "Miss Russell is ready for this. Her editorial (... 'Surely the time has come to remove the shackles of coercion and to bring an end to the slave mentality...') concludes with an assurance that she is prepared to take full responsibility for the price rise and to face the consequences of her action." Entrepreneur Russell also runs a hamburger restaurant and a business in economic textbooks.

"When a piece of work gets done in the world, who does it? Whose eyes and ears do the perceiving, whose cortex does the thinking, who has the feelings that motivate the will that overcomes obstacles? Certainly not the social environment; for a group is not an organism but only a blind unconscious organization. Everything that gets done within society is done by individuals."
